The Blairmore Bakery

Adrian Trabucchi, Proprietor      Blairmore, Alberta
Corner Victoria Street and Eighth Ave.

Recently Mr. C. W. Johnston complained to the C.P.R. about being held up at a public railway crossing for considerably more than the time allowed for trains to block a crossing, and as a result, trainmaster Ainsley, of Macleod, visited this section on Monday and has recommended 10 demerit marks each for two of the train hands.

T. W. Quayle, secretary of the Alberta Federal Liberal Association, was in town from Edmonton on Thursday. Mr. Quayle is well known throughout southern Alberta, having for a number of years controlled the destinies of the Charlestown Review, and until a year or so ago acted on the editorial staff of the Lethbridge Herald.

Town Will Issue Writs Against Delinquents

At the regular meeting of the town council held this evening, the question of finances was introduced by the finance committee.

A list of names of parties owing large amounts of taxes, and who were in a position to pay them, but would not, was handed in by the secretary. The list contained the names of some of our most prominent citizens, who have children attending the public school, and who are enjoying all the public privileges of the town without paying a cent therefor. One Italian named Niciforo has stated over and over again that he would not pay any more taxes. Some time ago this individual refused to accede to the request of the sanitary inspector to clean up the putrid rubbish accumulated around his premises.

The council at this evening's meeting decided definitely to take steps to enforce the payment of taxes or other accounts due the town, and will at once issue writs against the delinquents.

The town is at present up against a trying problem. The school has to be maintained, and the teachers have not been paid for the past two or three months. Little or no revenue has been coming in, and until the present year's taxes are demanded there is no other means of getting revenue except from the arrearages.

The town should have no place for such a class as will come in for no other purpose but to accumulate the wealth of money or real estate, and never pay for the privilege of being a citizen.

Earl Kitchener

Lost at Sea

A telegram from Admiral Sir John Jellicoe, commander of the British fleet, was received in London on June 5th, as follows:

"I have to report with deep regret that his majesty's ship Hampshire, Capt. Herbert J. Saville, R.N., with Lord Kitchener and his staff on board, was sunk last night at about 8 p.m. to the west of the Orkneys either by a mine or torpedo. Four boats were seen by observers on shore to leave the ship. The wind was blowing northwest and heavy seas were running. Patrol vessels and destroyers at once proceeded to the spot and a party was sent along the coast to search. Several bodies and capsized boats have been found up to the present. As the whole has been searched from the seaward I greatly fear that there is little hope of there being any survivors. No report has yet been received from the search party on shore. H.M.S. Hampshire was on her way to Russia."

This is the second shock the empire has suffered within two weeks. The other was when the newspapers appeared on Friday with the first information of the naval battle in the North Sea in the form of a list of ships lost, with virtually no information that there was any compensation in the way of enemy losses.

Earl Kitchener met his death at a moment which will insure his position in British history. He was almost the only member of the government who from the beginning confidently asserted that this would be a long war—his lowest estimate being three years—and he insisted that the government should make its plans accordingly. The organization of the enormous new British army is well under way. The general staff, under Gen. Sir William Robertson's direction, according to the belief of the public, has well in hand the task of working out the details which Kitchener's brain was largely instrumental in planning and launching.

Big Profits in

Hotel Investments

Hotel investments in most parts of Canada, and particularly in Ontario, have depreciated very much in value owing to the spread of prohibition, and many owners are in despair.

But there is no need for this. On the other hand a new and much better era should now open. Hotel-keeping has proved to be, and may, in Canada, be made one of the most profitable and reputable of businesses. It is the most promising field for business development known at today for ambitious capable young men.

The trouble is that our hotels have been conducted on the wrong lines. They have been regarded as the chief object. Most hotel-keepers have not been business men but liquor handlers. Lodgings and food have been merely an incident. Some of them expected to lose money on their tables. The wastefulness was appalling yet the supplying of good food and good accommodation is one of the most profitable businesses in the world today. In Canada it has been more or less of a disgrace to be associated with, or even seen in, an hotel. In Europe and the United States some of the richest and most prominent families socially are investing and naming hotels after themselves and the hotel is becoming a social center.

The most successful hotel-keepers are men who began in the kitchen and dining-room; who learnt the business from that end. The Ritz Hotel in Paris is probably the best in the world today. Mr. Ritz, when the first first knew him, had just been promoted to assist in the management of the Savoy Hotel, London. The present general manager of the Ritz, Mr. Ellis, was his head waiter. Like so many successful caterers they are both of Swiss birth. George B. Boldt, of the Waldorf-Astoria, and other big hotels in the States, is the largest hotel owner in the world, with a net income of well over a million; perhaps a couple of millions a year. He worked his way up from the kitchen. Fred Sierry, manager of The Plaza and other big American hotels, also worked his way up through all departments. The departments, of which these men know best, in their business, is the bar.

It is not only the big hotels that have been marvellously successful when managed by men of capacity, who learnt the business from the ground up, and who have developed executive ability, but some of the small hotels have been remarkably profitable. We know of one hotel, in a town of only 17,000, managed by a man who began, when a boy, cutting meat in the kitchen of a big city hotel. As a result of good food and clean, perfectly appointed rooms and efficient management, the profits of this home have steadily crept up, until, in 1915, they reached $50,000. Today the building is being nearly doubled in size to meet the demand of good service. So little does this manager think of his bar that in his new building, he is putting it in the basement, as he is satisfied that, in a very short time, liquor selling will be eliminated.

Investors in hotel properties should deal with them as a manufacturing and retailing proposition. Manage, or have them managed, by experienced business men. Give a quality service, advertise it, and build a reputation just as a manufacturer or retailer does for his name or trade mark. The traveling and local public will flock to them.

The Hudson Bay Country

(Territory to be Developed by New Road Will be Another Source of Wealth to the Dominion)

The Hudson Bay Railroad, which has its northern terminus at Port Nelson, will shortly be the hauler of grain from the wheat fields of the West to the Atlantic coast by over a thousand miles, and the total distance between the prairie farms and European ports will not be increased. This of course is the chief object in building the road. But it will also serve another purpose, that of opening up a new territory for permanent settlement. Peasants tell us that this country is not suitable to permanent occupation, that it is cold and barren, with nothing to entice the pioneer to live within its borders. We were told much the same regarding other parts of the Dominion which are now looked upon as veritable gardens of fertility. The Hudson Bay country may be mentioned as an example.

We are told that the country opened up by the new railroad has many great things in the year, with the possible exception of July. This may be a serious handicap to the farmer in his operations, yet we must remember that in the three prairie provinces last year, there was a drought in which frost did not occur. Yet in this climate 600,000,000 bushels of wheat were grown during the season. Also the Yukon district is said to produce vegetables as fine as any anywhere in other parts of the Dominion, and it lies well up to the Arctic circle.

There seems to be no reason to doubt that a large local trade will be established along the new road. The forests contain valuable timbers, which in addition to furnishing material for export, will be a boon to the pulp and allied industries of Canada. Again it is a country of great natural wealth, and as soon as it is opened up, it will lead to further and further development in mining operations. The fish, too, will be the rivers and lakes, will be an other source of wealth.

When we read the reports furnished by the topographical survey for 1916, and also the reports of those who either for pleasure or business have visited this now little known territory, we fail to see how anyone should or could doubt regarding the advisability of opening up the country.

An Ancient City

Trebitzon was one of the Most Notable Cities of the East in the Middle Ages

Trebitzon, the old capital of Cappadocia, is mentioned by Milton in one of his gorgeous catalogues of places in the first book of "Paradise Lost," where he refers to the knights who once journeyed there. The city, indeed was one of the most famous of mediæval chivalry, and it is a German historian, Professor Palmerseyer, who tells us that the city was famous for its romance and in the imaginations of the Italians and Provencals, one of the most famous of the cities of the East, and the rallying point of the knights and the flower of Asia. Readers of "Ivanhoe" may remember that the templars boasted to Rebecca that he had won his horse, Zanoir, in single combat from the knights of the city.

Apart from its classical association with Xenophon and the retreat of the ten thousand, Trebitzon was one of the most notable cities of the East in the middle ages. The Hellenic Trebitzon, or "Tableland" was named from the sloping table of ground on which it stands, and the city was the fourth crusade fell into the hands of Alexis Comnenus, a son of the Emperor Byzantine emperor who founded there an empire that lasted for two and a half centuries, and included the greater part of the eastern coast of the Black Sea. The Imperial family were renowned for their beauty, and Princesses of Trebitzon were sought in marriage by Byzantine Emperors, western nobles and Mohammedan Princes.—The London Chronicle.

Traffic on all Russia's inland waterways is to be controlled along lines already adopted for rail road communications, by a central executive committee, which is to be composed of a number of officials appointed by various ministries as well as by municipal authorities. The decisions of this committee that demand neither changes in existing laws nor financial disbursements are to be carried out at once. Other decisions are to be put through with the consent of the minister of communications.

Patriotic Acre Pledges Brought In Over $20,000

Cheques to the amount of $19,914.01 have been sent to the Canadian Grain Growers Association.

The money is one of the amounts collected by the branches of the association as returns from patriotic acre pledges. There is a total of $1,802 on hand and more will likely be received in the near future from those who have not yet had the opportunity of selling their last season's crop.

A member of the crew of the late H. M. S. Arctura tells a story of the ship's pet—a cat. When the Arctura was taking in oil fuel before leaving port on her last journey the mascot jumped from the cruiser on to the oil craft and refused to be entreated and caresses to return to the doomed vessel. She had never done this before, and the crew regarded her defection as an ill omen.

Big Irrigation Convention

Instructing and Interesting Addresses to be Given by Practical Men

With a splendid list of speakers to address the 10th Annual Convention of the Western Canada Irrigation Association at Kamloops on July 26th, 28th and 29th next. The Place in the Sun" has every reason to feel confident that the forthcoming meeting will be one of real value and interest to both fruit growers and farmers.

Farmers and fruit-growers are usually very busy men and do not care to take time from the midst of their work, particularly during the crop growing season, to absent themselves from their homes unless in doing so they are getting information and advice that make their visits to farmers' conventions of intrinsic value to them. During the past few years all farmers' conventions have realized the necessity of conducting their meetings on a strict business basis and the Western Canada Irrigation Association is not behind hand in this work. Every possible phase of agriculture, from the growing of the fruit crop to the raising of the stock, is a subject of special interest to a particular farmer, and the program is so arranged that the delegates can get the most out of the convention. As far as possible the actual farmers, irrigators and fruit growers are invited to attend, and the program is so arranged that it is hoped and believed that the increased attendance of delegates at the Annual Irrigation Convention that the members of the Western Canada Irrigation Association to them and getting direct benefits from and through it. A glance at the following list of speakers will advise all those interested of the subjects to be covered and Mr. C. E. Lawrence, the general secretary of the Local Board of Control at Kamloops, will be glad to answer all enquiries regarding this meeting promptly and fully.

The Fat Garbage Can

It is no credit to us that "the American garbage can is the fattest in the world," remarked Senator Spooner when he injected into the Senate debate on preparedness a plea for preparedness for good cooking.

"If I had a dozen daughters and I was able to give each of them a million dollars a day of their marriage," said the Senator, "I would still want each to know how to cook, make her own clothes, and, in fact, be a superior housekeeper."

The skillful cook and housekeeper is a woman with a minimum expenditure of money. Any cook should be able to serve a profit and a pleasure. The lost pocketbook at her disposal. The lost pocketbook when this is done at small expense.

The art, as all clever cooks acknowledge, is to make a good meal out of leftovers that the thrifty throw away. The wastefulness at the table of the American hotel and restaurant has always amazed the foreign traveller.—From Leslie's.

Free Scholarships

Four Years' Free Tuition is Offered by the C. P. R. to Apprentices and Other Employees

Mr. George Hurry, vice-president of the Canadian Pacific, announces in a special circular, that two free scholarships, covering four years' tuition in the Faculty of Applied Science in McGill University, are offered to apprentice and other employees enrolled on the permanent staff of the said company, and under 31 years of age, and to minor sons of employees, the same being subject to competitive examination.

The competitive examination will be held at the university, Montreal, and at other centres throughout Canada, in June, 1916. The candidates making the highest average and complying with the requirements of admission will be awarded the scholarships and have the option of taking a course in any department of applied science. The scholarship will be renewed from year to year, for a period not exceeding four years, if, at the close of each session, the holder thereof is recommended by the university to stand in the next higher year. In case a scholarship holder finds it necessary to interrupt his course for a year or more, notice must be given at the close of the session to the railway company and to the railway department of the university, in order that the scholarship may be held open to the holder.

In order to establish prior claim to the next available scholarship, no holder of a scholarship should be later than the opening of the session in the preceding year of the session in which such scholarships will be available. Applications for consideration entitling eligible persons to enter the competition should be addressed to Mr. C. P. R., chief registrar and secretary pension department, Montreal.

Denmark's Dairy Industry

A High and Uniform Quality of Butter Cause of Success

Denmark makes an almost absolute uniform quality of butter, and the quality is high. The volume of production almost uniform throughout the year.

These two facts explain why it is that before the war Denmark supplied three-fifths of the butter imported into England, and twice as much as Australia, which came next, provided.

Denmark is an importer of butter, or its equivalent, as well as an exporter. Danish farmers import inferior butter from other countries for resale, for use at home, and sell their highest priced product in the English market. They also import margarine as a substitute for butter in the home market.

In the five years ending with 1915 Denmark's export of butter or its equivalent amounted to 216,920,000 lbs. In 1913 her exports in excess of imports amounted to 216,920,000 lbs. Part of this increase in exports is due to an increase from 808,710 in the number of cows kept in 1915 to 1,210,238 in 1914. Part is due to the fact that the average production per cow jumped from 3,850 lbs. of milk in 1908 to 5,500 in 1913.

With the increase in dairy output there has been an advance in bacon production as well. In the five years ending with 1915 the average value of the exports of hog products from Denmark was $7,340,000. In 1913 the value of such exports was $4,900,000.

Co-operation, as applied to both dairying and bacon production, lies at the foundation of Denmark's remarkable progress in both these lines.

C. P. R. Demonstration Farms

The demonstration farms which the Canadian Pacific has set up, both east and west, have been employed with signal success in one special direction with setting up of higher standards. Through precept and example the company has brought about a most interesting change in values. In other words, the example and encouragement of the railway company, through these farms and by other means, have caused those who have food products to sell to give closer attention to quality than was their former habit. The company insists upon the first quality of food products on the cars, and has taught the farmers, both east and west, how best to supply A 1 quality in butter, eggs, fowl, etc. In the east and tidy putting of the products, too, there has been decided improvement. The farmers have been seen, right at their elbow, that value can be greatly enhanced by careful attention to details.

"Now, Willie," said mother, "you told me a falsehood. Do you know what happens to little boys who tell falsehoods?"

"No," returned Willie tremblingly.

"Well," continued mother, "a big black man with only one eye, in the centre of his forehead comes down and flies with him up to the moon and makes him pick stars for the remainder of his life. Now, you never told a falsehood again, will you?"

It is terribly wicked.

"Why don't you get out of debt, Brown?"

"I haven't time. It keeps me busy getting in."

Will Feed Poland

British Government to Undertake the Problem

The British government has agreed to a plan whereby the civilian population of Poland may be fed by the American commission.

The agreement specifies certain additions to German guarantees covering the distribution of food before the permission becomes effective. The chief points in the additions proposed by the British government to the German guarantees are stipulations providing that the relief shall apply to Russian Poland as a whole, and to the portion occupied by the Germans, and an undertaking on the part of the German and Austrian governments adequately to feed Serbia, Albania and Montenegro.

Needed Teaching

Yella from the nursery brought the mother, who found the baby gleefully pulling away his curls.

"Never mind, darling," she comforted. "Baby doesn't know how it hurts."

Half an hour later wail shrieks from the baby made her run again to the nursery.

"Why, Billy," she cried, "what is the matter with baby?"

"Nothing, master," said Billy calmly. "Only now he knows."

Belgian Woman Undaunted

Refuses to Give German Authorities Names of Persons Receiving Letters by Secret Courier

The latest story of heroism that comes from Belgium has to do with a Belgian woman, a resident of one of the suburbs of Brussels. It is told in a letter received in Toronto, that was smuggled across the Belgian frontier, having been carried from Brussels by special courier, an operation, incidentally, which is extremely hazardous in view of the more rigorous German restrictions, and the imposition of the death penalty upon anyone found carrying letters or disposing of papers or intelligence that would in any way apprise the Brussels of the true conditions that obtained in the outer world.

This particular Belgian woman of courage and bravery had been for months without news of her husband, an officer in the Belgian army, until finally she discovered one of the agencies through which she could have news of one of the letters with the result that the woman was placed under arrest. It happened that a number of people were with her at the same time, and the Germans immediately determined that they would execute the courier and punish the parties who were contributory to this latest infraction of German law. When they demanded the names from the woman whom they had placed under arrest they were refused by stern refusal. Every method conceivable was employed, but the brave woman remained calm and defiant. The German Governor that she would rather go down to her death honorably than to expose her friends.

Today that woman—one of the leaders of Brussels society in the days when German Kultur was unknown—lies in a Brussels prison under threat of death. She will not surrender and she cannot die she will die as thousands of other Belgian women have died—bravely and nobly in a cause that is more precious than life itself.

Source of Krupp Fortune

Everyone knows the part which Krupp plays in equipping Germany and her allies with munitions, but how many are aware that the fortune with which the great firm was placed on a sure foundation, if not actually founded, came from Birmingham? Alfred Krupp came to Birmingham about 1840 with an introduction from Dr. Siemens to Messrs. Elkington and Mason, electro-platers, the predecessors of the present firm of Elkington and Sons, who were then in the business which he had invented, for rolling wire and making electrical apparatus and for the same reason. He sold this to the firm for £10,000. With the money acquired Krupp proceeded to Essen and laid the foundation of the great fortune he afterwards acquired.—London Chronicle.

The president of the board of trade, in the British house of commons said in answer to a question: "Fifteen hundred Canadian woodmen have come here to cut timber. We were so short of timber that we realized a great deal of work must be done forthwith, though every endeavor is being made to do it economically."

Remember this—Power is the thing which makes or mars

motoring pleasure and satisfaction. Other things may have a stronger appeal to the inexperienced eye, but eventually all motorists discover that power is the great essential.

And remember this—You can't have sufficient power

in your motor car unless the motor is of the Valve-in-Head type. Racing drivers, almost to a man, use cars with Valve-in-Head motors. They know from years of experience that you absolutely cannot get sufficient power from any except a Valve-in-Head motor.

Finally, remember this—"McLaughlin" motor cars

always have had Valve-in-Head motors, and developed to the highest point of efficiency yet attained in automobile engineering.

They Spread Disease and Are a Serious Menace to Health

House flies are now recognized as most dangerous carriers of the germs of such diseases as typhoid fever, infantile diarrhoea, tuberculosis, etc.

From filth and decaying material, they carry infection to the house and to the food which we eat.

The best method to exterminate flies is to prevent their breeding. House flies breed in decaying or decomposing vegetable and animal matter and in excrement. Stable refuse is especially attractive to them. In cities this should be stored in dark, fly-proof receptacles and should be regularly removed within six days in summer. Farm manure should also be removed within the same time and either spread on the fields or stored at a distance of not less than a quarter mile from a house or dwelling.

Manure piles may be treated with borax, using three-fifths of a pound to every ten cubic feet of manure. Scatter the dry borax principally around the sides and edges of the pile and wash in with water.

Kitchen refuse is a favorite breeding place for flies, and great care should be taken to keep garbage cans tightly covered. The contents should be buried or burnt at once, if possible. No refuse should be left exposed. If it cannot be disposed of at once it should be sprinkled with borax

Childless Wives
We are very glad to know that the observations made at the Montreal conference of the managers of the Patriotic Fund, as to the effect of payments to childless wives of soldiers on active service, do not apply to British Columbia, where the administrators of the Fund, after the completion of the arrangements for separation allowance and the payment of a part of the soldier's pay, do not hand over any money to wives with children, but place in the bank monthly or their account a certain sum, which can only be drawn out in case of emergency, and otherwise will be retained to form a little capital which the soldier will have available after the war. This arrangement ensures the local authorities to the Fund against the use of their contributions to assist those who do not really require aid.—Victoria Colonist.

Waterworks and Sewerage Systems of Canada

A new edition of "Waterworks and Sewerage Systems of Canada," by Leo G. Dennis, has just been issued by the Commission of Conservation. In the present report the various physical and financial data respecting waterworks have been brought up to date and a new section on sewerage systems has been added. The book is a round tabooy volume, handsomely bound in cloth, contains 170 pages of text and is well illustrated with 25 half-tones and 5 diagrams.

In the year of Confederation there were only seven waterworks plants in Canada today there are 528. These have been built at a total cost of $124,725,000, and entail annual maintenance charges of $4,538,530. The total daily consumption is 420,377,000 imperial gallons, which gives an average daily consumption per capita of 111 gallons, ranging from 50 gallons in Manitoba to 143 in New Brunswick.

There are 296 plants supplied from springs or wells and 322 from lakes or streams. In 72 plants the water is filtered and in 21 plants it is treated with hypochlorite. The municipally owned plants number 286. As to rates, where specified, it is shown that flat rates are used in 20 cases, meters 10.30, and both flat and meter in 211.

There are 279 sewerage systems in Canada, having an aggregate mileage of 4,223 and which have been built at a total cost of $79,504,318. In only 75 municipalities is the sewage treated. Proportionally to population, the West, with 28 treatment plants, makes a much better showing than the East with 47. The total cost of treatment plants is $9,218,163.

White Feathers

It is said that quite a few young fellows in the neighborhood have received white feathers lately. This is one of the oldest methods of attempting to obtain recruits. It will do more harm than good and the harm will be permanent. It has been tried in many places and invariably found disadvantageous.

That a young man does not enlist is not necessarily a mark of cowardice. On the contrary, it may be that by staying at home he is "doing his bit" even better than some who have enlisted in the armies. The brave man is not necessarily the one who does spectacular "bits of heroism"—the heroic deed may be done under stress of excitement or emulation—but the man who does his duty as he sees it, faithfully and honestly, let it with the rifle and bayonet, following the plow, or doing any of the various necessary commonplace jobs.

Patriotism is not raising your hat when "The King" is played, nor is it waving the flag and shouting "I am loyal," when many times the flag-waver and monthly "loyalist" is disregarding the laws of his land in many ways. True patriotism consists in doing one's duty to his country, his neighbor and his family (by inference to himself), faithfully and honestly.

At the same time, there is still need of men, and yet more men, for the defence of Canada. The war is not over yet, not by a long margin. And there are still many young men, unmarried, with apparently few or no family ties, who could go to swell the ranks of those who are fighting. But unless these men can be shown that their duty lies in the direction of enlistment—that Canada is worth fighting for and that the empire needs their individual services as fighters, it were worse than folly to attempt to frighten them into enlistment by means of anonymous letters or "white feathers." The young man who can be scared into enlistment will not be much use as a soldier.—Inland Province.

ANNOUNCEMENT

We wish to announce to the travelling public that we have recently taken over the proprietorship of the Union Hotel at Frank. Since our assuming charge, we have given the house a thorough cleaning from top to bottom. Several changes have been made in the plan of the ground floor, in order to supply the demand for an up-to-date pool hall. Our pool hall is equipped with well set tables, which will in the near future be augmented by the addition of a large billiard table, an additional room for which is being added to the hotel. Our dining room is receiving particular attention and is being thoroughly renovated, and when completed will be in first class condition. After June 30th we will convert the bar into a refreshment parlor, where soft drinks, ice cream, etc., will be served. In addition to other branches, we have a modern equipped tonorial parlor, which is in charge of Mr. Homanqvist, who has had over ten years' experience in the trade and is thoroughly competent. It has been stated that hotels cannot be operated on a paying basis without the bar. Our past experience leads us to believe that an institution catering fair treatment to the public can command sufficient support to make the venture a paying one, and have decided to give it a trial. We therefore solicit a share of your patronage, and guarantee satisfaction at all times to everyone. Yours truly, Weep, waves of England! Nobler clay Was ne'er to nobler grave consigned; The wild waves weep with us today Who mourn a nation's master-mind.

We hoped an honored age for him, And ashes laid with England's great; And rapturous music, and the dim Deep hush that veils our Tomb-State.

But this is better. Let him sleep Where sleep the men who made us free; For England's heart is in the deep, And England's glory is the sea.

One only vow above his bier, One only oath beside his bed; We swear our flag shall shield him here Until the sea gives up its dead!

Leap, waves of England! Boastful be, And fling defiance in the blast, For Earth is captive of the sea—Which shelters England's dead at last.

The officers elected for the coming term of the I.O.O.F., Bellevue Lodge 118, are: J. P. G. William H. Chappell, Jr., P. G.; A. May, V. G.; George Pattison, Recording Secretary, Herbert Barless.

A very interesting ceremony took place at the regular meeting of Bellevue Lodge 118, of the Independent Order of Oddfellows, held at Bellevue on Monday night, when jewels were presented to those of their members who had enlisted in His Majesty's overseas forces. The presentations were made by Past Grand Alvin Hamilton, on behalf of the Lodge. On behalf of the recipients, Bro. James Burke responded in a fitting manner. He considered the little present insignificant as to its actual cost, but felt it would be nevertheless prized by the members of this lodge who would have occasion to go abroad, and would tend to recall the very pleasant associations and good times had in Bellevue. In the course of his remarks he referred with pride to the extent that Bellevue Lodge was already represented in the colors, having up to the present given over thirty per cent of the membership, some of whom had already seen service along the firing line, others enroute and still a greater number being prepared in anticipation of doing their bit in the fighting ranks. Following the presentation; luncheon was served by the "hash" committee, and a programme of songs, speeches, acrobatic feats, dances, etc., wore away the hours until two a.m. A large number of brethren from Blairmore were in attendance.

Frank Happenings

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Tompkins and children leave on Sunday for eastern Canada, where Mrs. Tompkins and children intend to spend the summer. Mr. Tompkins will be back in a few weeks.

The local secretary of the Red Cross wishes on behalf of that Society to express an appreciation of the valuable donation of $100.10 from the Belgian people of Frank, being proceeds of a picnic held at Frank on the 24th of May.

A patriotic memorial service will be held in the Frank Methodist church on Sunday night at 7:30, in memory of James Dunlop, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Dunlop, sr., who lost his life at the front. The public are cordially invited to attend this service.

Mrs. Daniel Dunlop received a cable on Tuesday morning, stating that her second eldest son, James, was killed in action on May 27th. Mrs. Dunlop has another boy in the trenches, and another with the 13th at Medicine Hat, while her husband is now with the military forces at Shorcliffe, England. Much sympathy is felt for her in her sad bereavement. James was one of the most popular boys of The Pass, and was particularly a favorite among hockey players, at which game he proved himself a star among the juveniles.

The Ten Health Commandments

First—Thou shalt have no other food than at meal time.

Second—Thou shalt not make into these any pies or put into pastry the likeness of everything that is in the heavens above or in the water under the earth. Thou shalt not fail to eat it or trying to digest it, for the dyspepsia will be visited upon the children of the third and fourth generations of them that eat pie; and long life and vigor upon those that live prudently and keep the laws of health.

Third—Remember thy bread and bake it with thy will not be kept well that catch his breath as dying.

Fourth—Thou shalt not indulge in sorrow, or borrow anxiety in vain.

Fifth—Six days shalt thou wash and keep thyself clean, and the seventh thou shalt take a great bath, clean and dry sun and thy daughter and thy man servant, and the stranger that is within thy gates.

Sixth—Remember the sitting room and bed-chamber to keep them ventilated that thy days may be long in the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee.

Seventh—Thou shalt not eat hot biscuits.

Eighth—Thou shalt not eat thy meat fried.

Ninth—Thou shalt not swallow thy meat unchewed, or lightly sip, or just before hand work, or just after it.

Tenth—Thou shalt not keep late hours in thy neighbor's house, nor with thy neighbor's cards, nor his glass, nor with anything that is thy neighbor's.

Big Hospital Transports
The work of converting big merchant ships like the Britannic into afloat hospitals is a feature of the war apt to be overlooked. The one referred to has a fine operating table. Elevators are installed to carry not only patients but also the "stretches" are accommodated in the wards least accessible, for most of them can be moved on deck. On one trip the Britannic carried 3,221 patients. She has thirty-three medical officers, eighty nurses, 320 orderlies, and a crew of nearly 700. The Aquitania on one of her trips gathered up 4,000 patients in the Eastern Mediterranean and landed them at this big base. She carried forty medical officers, 100 nurses, and 400 orderlies, besides a crew of over 600 men. The Mauretania on one trip brought back 2,200 patients.

British Snipers Now Successful
A soldier at the front writes: "Sniping is now an important and highly important branch of British trench warfare. The Germans no longer hold supremacy which undoubtedly they held at the beginning of the campaign. For now, British sharpshooters have shown them, while excelling them in daring, ingenuity, and perseverance, and the steady growth of our marksmanship has had a marked effect on the attitude of the enemy. No longer do they shoot so carelessly behind their lines, or show themselves in apparently safe spots as working parties. The belief that the British rifleman could not harm them.

Presence of mind is the quality which, above all others, the military man should cultivate.

"Captain, we are entirely out of ammunition," said an orderly sergeant to his commander the other day.

"What! Entirely out of ammunition?" exclaimed the captain.

"Yes, sir," was the reply.

"Then cease firing," said the captain.

Most Eminent Medical Authorities Endorse It.

Dr. Eberle and Dr. Brathwaite as well as Dr. Simon—all distinguished authorities—agree that when the disease, the urine seldom fails in furnishing us with a clue to the principal trouble which it is to be treated, and accurate knowledge concerning the nature of disease can thus be obtained. Growth of Telephones
According to the annual blue book of the Railway Department giving telephone statistics, there is now one telephone for every 15.3 persons in Canada. The increase in the use of the telephone has been steady during the past few years, and war conditions do not seem to have interrupted the progress. The number of telephones reported as being in use in 1915 was 333,000, an increase of 11,946 over 1914. The principal growth was in rural districts. The total earnings of the 1,366 companies in Canada totaled $4,764,367, which was $350,000 better than the result of 1914. The total capitalization of Canadian telephone companies now amounts to $74,285,000.

Britain's Last Line
Germans may about with joy today, but the hour will come when the hideous crime of delight over murder will give place to other quite different manifestations. We possess, and shall continue to possess, an element of defence in the "ditch" which surrounds us. Germany has no such protection. She is the country whose coast is the easiest target for aircraft. That consideration will, in its season, be forced on the deluded Germans, who have been spoon-fed with stories of the achievements of their airships which would do credit to their distant fellow-countryman, Baron Munchausen.—London Telegraph.

What Paint Does
Paint preserves wood. It fills cracks in the weather-boding, and actually makes the house warmer in winter. The sun has a bad effect on a building made of wood. The siding soon cracks, thus letting the rain soak in, which soon causes decay to start. If painted, the oil in the paint keeps the siding from drying out. Paint should be thoroughly mixed before it is put on a building. If put on too thick it does not spread evenly, making a clumsy job.

A Boon for the Bileuses.—The liver is a very sensitive organ and easily deranged. When this occurs there is undue secretion of bile and acid flows into the stomach and causes it. It is a most distressing ailment, and many are prone to it. In this condition a man finds the best remedy in Farne's Vegetable Pills, which are warranted to speedily rectify the disorder. There is no better medicine in the entire list of pill preparations.

According to Lloyd's Register which only covers the records up to 1910, there has been a steady growth in the number of vessels equipped with wireless apparatus and submarine signalling installations. There are now on Lloyd's registry of the world's merchant marine 2,939 vessels equipped with wireless apparatus and 947 provided with submarine signalling systems.

His Best Girl
Writing from a hospital at the front a correspondent says—
"You find many of the boys who are down at the rest camp suffering from strain, and they look rather depressed. I found it very interesting to go about having talks with these boys and getting them to tell me all their troubles. After a chat it is wonderful how bright some of them become. One night I was chatting with two lads, and as they got more and more confidential one of them pulled out two photographs and asked me which of them I liked best. I looked at the photographs and said I thought they were both extremely nice young lads, for I felt I was treading on dangerous ground. Being pressed, however, for a decision, I eventually said I thought I preferred that one (handing the boy the picture). 'Why, hang it all, he has chosen my sister,' remarked the youth with an injured air."

In spite of this little slip I encountered the other day I was very reluctant, but eventually produced his wallet, and taking out a photograph, he held it out to me, saying 'There's my old girl, and she is the best in all the world.' The photograph of an elderly, sweet-faced lady—his mother.

Mrs. Alonso Tower, Johnson's Mills, N. B., writes: "I can strongly recommend Baby's Own Tablets to all mothers whose little ones are suffering from constipation. Decoration Instead of Vaccination.
It is alleged that not long ago the French military authorities expressed a desire to award a decoration to thirty British non-coms, and privates for bravery on the field. When the General Joffre, he was somewhat surprised to note that it numbered thirty. However, he was too polite to raise any objection, and the ceremony proceeded.

The fact was afterwards brought out—though not so far communicated to the French military authorities—that our own War Office had inadvertently sent forward, instead of the men to be decorated, a batch that had been scheduled for vaccination.

Carried Safely Through Change of Life by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Nashville, Tenn.—"When I was going through the Change of Life I had a terrible time. I was as large as a child's head. The doctor said it was three years coming and gave me medicine for it until I was called away from the city for some time. Of course I could not go to him then, so my sister-in-law told me that she thought I took the Pinkham remedies until the tumor was gone, the doctor said, and I have not felt it since. I tell every one how I was cured. If this letter will help others we are welcome to use it."

—Mrs. E. H. BEAN, 322 Joseph Avenue, Nashville, Tenn.

"Here is the Nerve Food I know that will help you."

Malnutrition Failure to get the good of the food you eat.

It is not what you eat, but what you eat, digest and absorb, that counts in keeping up the health and vigor of the human body. If you are not getting the benefit of the food you eat you should suspect the nervous system, for the nerves control the flow of the gastric juices of the stomach and the other chemical fluids of the digestive system which effect the digestion of starches, fats, etc.

Especially at this season of the year digestion lags, appetite fails, you do not get the good of the food you eat and vitality is consequently lowered. You feel the effects in loss of energy and ambition, feelings of fatigue come over you and you lack in courage and good cheer.

Eating more will not help you, for you must have nourishment in an easily assimilated condition so that it may be taken up by the blood stream without effort. In short, you need such assistance as is best afforded by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

By using this food cure you enrich the blood and supply nourishment directly to the starved nervous system. The nerves which control the process of digestion are in health and vigor.

This is Nature's way. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food supplies the elements and the processes of Nature convert these elements into new, rich blood and new nerve force. You cannot fail to be benefited by such treatment, and the results obtained are lasting.

Bilingualism was condemned at the recent session of the Alberta Methodist conference. The following resolution in that respect was passed:

"Whereas we are firmly convinced that a strong national life can only be established by the use of one language in the educational institutions in the country, and

Whereas it is necessary to unify the widely diverse elements that enter into the composition of our nation.

We recommend that the Alberta Methodist Conference place itself on record as being unalterably opposed to the principle of bilingualism.

And furthermore that hearty approval be expressed of the action of the Alberta representatives who opposed bilingualism in the recent session of the Dominion parliament."

A considerable dust was raised on Tuesday evening last by a team and democrat passing through Blairmore, and on investigation we found that the dust was driven high by a pair of old boots attached to a wagon which contained all that remained of a newly married couple—Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Haines, of Coleman. Mr. and Mrs. Haines came as such through the kind action of Rev. D. K. Allen, of Coleman, who in the holy bonds of matrimony united the fortunes of Miss Annie Shone to Thomas Haines. A number of immediate friends were in attendance at the ceremony, some of whom were responsible for depriving the young couple from pulling off the affair quietly by attaching the ancient emblem to the vehicle. The young couple entrained at Frank for Calgary, Banff and Berlin, and after a week's honeymoon trip will take up residence at Coleman. They have already accepted our congratulations and enter upon the trials peculiar to married life amid the well-wishes of their numerous friends.
